

curriculum vitae
nicky liebregts

I am Nicky, a curious recently graduated Industrial Designer at the Eindhoven University of Technology. In my work, I create opportunities for better understanding of the world and more informed futures, through experiential installations.

I open doors and support connections between people. As a designer, I am often a translator: I translate poetic stories into inspiring experiences through technology. I make knowledge accessible and understandable; not by telling someone where to go, but by supporting their own journey.
